PRIZE-GIVING 1972

This year there were two ceremonies, one on Thursday evening 9 November for the Senior, Sports and Special Prizes, and one on Thursday afternoon 7 December for the Junior Prizes.

The main ceremony was addressed by Mr B. C. Spiers, M.B.E., Chairman of the Nelson Education Board since 1949. Mr Spiers spoke on the progress made in education in the last 40 years principally in respect to country schools and their difficulties.

Mr D. H. P. Smith chairman of the Management Board, advised that the maintenance of the school had been kept up to a high standard and with the preparation of the departmental development plan for the ensuing five years that he was hopeful of gaining something in the way of buildings although the plan was geared for a higher roll than could be envisaged in the immediate future. He spoke on the changing times saying that he did not favour change for its own sake but that there must be proof of the need of change for the benefit of the pupils and the school as a whole. He concluded by saying that the Management was very conscious of the support of parents, "I thank you, the parents, for what you have done for your children and your school throughout the year . . . The school is in good heart and we can look forward to the future in confidence, . . ."

The Headmaster's Report contained comment on the excellent staffing situation, pleasing examination successes, the resignation of four staff members, and the practical changes that had taken place in the school in recent years. These changes included the general background course for third forms introduced in 1969, a compromise between streaming and non-streaming for third forms, the series of tests replacing examinations for third and fourth forms, and the one hour period as a unit of organisation. Mr Stevens concluded by thanking those who had supported the school during the year and wishing success to those sitting examination.

As well as the presentation of prizes by Mrs C. J. Martin, Mrs C. B. Spiers, Mr N. Haycock, Mr Spiers and Mr Stevens, a presentation of an inscribed silver tray and set of glassware was made by Mr Smith to Mr C. J. Martin, retiring secretary of the Board of Management.

C. J. Martin

With the retirement of Mr C. J. Martin from the position as secretary of the High School Committee of Management, the School has lost the services of an enthusiastic supporter and also a vast store of education administration knowledge that has stood the School in good stead on many occasions.

Mr Martin became the secretary at the time the District High School was translated into a High School. He made the journey over from Nelson to all the meetings of the Committee, only missing perhaps two or three times in the eighteen years. His knowledge, his systematic budgeting, and his personal contact at departmental level, has been of inestimable value. His understanding has enabled many corners to be cut, money to be saved, and staff and management relationships to be maintained at a high level.

The pride taken in the School by Mr Martin is a very real thing, and his desire and determination to achieve only the best for it has been made abundantly clear to all who have served as Managers over the years.

I acknowledge on behalf of the School the magnificent contribution made by Mr Martin, a contribution that will have lasting effects in the years to come. I extend to Mr and Mrs Martin the best wishes of the School for a long and pleasant retirement that is so justly earned and deserved.
